TRIAL WOMEN AND YOUTH IN HOBØL

The third and last round of the Trial Women European Championship was held today in Hobøl (Norway). The event was held on a damp ground with mixture of wet and dry rocks.

The day assigned the 2007 European Champion title to the Spanish Laia Sanz (Montesa), who won also today's race in front of British Becky Cook (Gas Gas) and German Iris Kramer (Scorpa). In the final rankings Laia Sanz arrives first with 60 points, in front of Iris Kraemer with 49 points and Becky Cook with 47 points.

Also the Trial Youth UEM Cup ended today, with the 2007 title going to British Jack Challoner (Beta). The race saw the victory of Challoner in front of Spanish Francesc Moret (Gas Gas) and British Ben Morphet (Gas Gas). The final rankings see Challoner winning with 60 points, followed by Spanish Hector Molina (Gas Gas) with 45 points and Moret with 42 points.

Tomorrow, Sunday the 18th of August, on the same track will be held the fifth and last round of the Trial European Championship.
